DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. For Vice President, ALLAN G. THURMAN, of Ohio, AUGUST ELECTION, 1888. For Sheriff, JOHN W. ALEXANDER.

Blaine on Thurman.

In his "Twenty Years in Congress," James G. Blaine pays a handsome trib- from a special to a Cincinnati paper: ute to the Hon. A. G. Thurman, Democratic nominee for Vice President. He by the Union forces. says of Judge Thurman: "His rank in the Senate was established from the day admirably disciplined debater, was fair in his method of statement, logical in his had no tricks in discussion, no catch- er's house, was burned to the ground. phrases to secure attention, but was always direct and manly. His mind was retirement from the Senate was a serious loss to his party, a loss, indeed, to the of all with whom he had associated during twelve years of honorable service."

Protection Nothing But Monopoly. "Politicians dearly love to play the fool," says the Chicago Herald. "As presented to the convention, the platform of ling, and when Thompson arrived at his home the Minnesota Republicans contained in Bentonville, Adams County, O., he still had this plank:

We demand that the imposition of duties on imports shall be limited to the necessities of the Government, economically adminis-

"Objections were made, and after debate the clause was stricken out and the following emanation of stupidity was substituted:

But while adopting protection, we demand that the duties on imports be so adjusted as not to foster monopoly.

This is a good deal like a convention justed as not to injure the whisky traffic.'

"Protection is nothing but monopoly. Were it not for the monopoly which it confers nobody would want it."

A Busted Boom.

Hon. W. O. Bradley's boom for Vice President on the Republican ticket has been heard from at last. The Bourbon News says some one stuck a pin in it at Chicago and it has collapsed. Mayor W. W. Patterson, of Ashland, (who is at Chicago) commenting on Bradley's chances, said:

"The delegation will vote for him solidly, but beyond that I don't see where he is going to cut any figure. This thing of each man going to bushwacking for him is something I don't exactly relish. Bradley is a young man, and the Kentucky Republicans have certainly done their share for him. While 1 am loyal to my friends, I am here to select a winning combination. It's nonsense to gossip about placing a Kentuckian on the ticket. That State is irretrievably Democratic, and all the world knows it. Our nominees have got to come from doubtful districts."

CHARLLES DICKENS, son of the great novelist, says there are no doubts about Mr. Clevelend's re-election, and thinks he is the best, most honest and honerable President we have had since Lincoln.

Some of the enthusiastic Republicans of this city think Blaine and Alger will be nominated at Chicago, and are betting that way one to two. Several such bets were made this morning, the takers being Democrats.

RENEWS HER YOUTH.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay County, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the tauth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle—50 cts. and $1, at J. J. Wood's drug store.

THAT SCOTT MEDAL.

Something of the Interesting History Connected With the Relic.

The finding of the gold medal presented by Virginia to General Winfield Scott in memory of his distinguished services during the Mexican war has been referred to once or twice by the BULLETIN. Colonel George S. Jones, a special pension examiner stationed at Georgetown, O., was here a few days ago and the BULLETIN toto. had an opportunity of examining the handsome relic. He got possession of it in Adams County, and the following is a brief history of it and its travels as taken In Ju e, 1864, Lexington, Va., was captured

The Ninety-first Ohio Volunteers were the first to enter the town. The cadets who occupled the institute (Virginia Military Instihe took his seat, and was never lowered tute) used the six pieces of stationary artillery during his period of service. He was an in its defense in the engagement. After removing some of the relics from the building. such as busts of Generals Washington and Scott, and some smaller articles, the building argument, honest in his conclusion. He | was fired, and together with Governor Letch-

A day or so after the battle Thomas Thompson, of Company E, Ninety-first Ohio, who had been wounded, was lying on the ground not pre-occupied and engrossed with where some comrades were tossing something political contests and affairs of State. His around among themselves. At last John Stivers tossed it to Thompson, and after look* ing over its round and curiously-figured shape, offered it back to Stivers, who said: "I body. He left behind him the respect don't want it; have no use for it; you can keep it."

Thompson, seeing it had pretty designs and nicely arranged letters on it, dropped it into his knapsack. He could not read, and did not understand what it was, but carried it until mustured out in 1865. No one attached any importance to it, thinking it was worth nothit, and kept it two or three years asja plaything for his children. Milt. Shipley, a gunsmith, happening to see it, concluded it would make good finger-rings, and purchased it from Thompson for 50 cents and the promise of one of the rings.

When Shipley had the medal on his bench, ready for destruction of its form, Phillip L. Howell stepped into the shop and begged for its preservation out of respect for General Scott, and finally bought it for 75 cents.

Mr. Howell kept it at his home in Bentonville, then Rome and Wamsleys, all in Adams County, O., until within a month of his death when he gave it to his son, William Howell, declaring in favor of 'prohibition so ad- from whom Colonel Jones obtained it, (but who still retains an interest in it).

The medal is three and one-half inches in diameter and five-eighths of an inch thick, and is mode of pure Guinea gold and weighs twelve ounces. On one side is the name "Winfield Scott," with a bust of General Scott beneath, while below this is the following inscription:

THE COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA Presents this medal to MAJOR GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT As a memorial of her admiration For the great and distinguished Services of her son While Commander-in-Chie! War with Mexico.

On either side of the inscription are olive and laurel branches touching the wings of two American eagles, while captured flags, swords, spears and cannon also appear. Beneath these is the name of the maker, C. C. Wright, of New York, one of General Scott's old soldiers. On the reverse side is the motto: "Fecit Quod Cogitavit," above a beautiful column entwined by a wreath of laurels and olive branches. On the column appear the names of the battles fought by General Scott during the Mexican war, viz: "Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, Contreras, Cherebusco, Del Rey, Chapultepec, Mexico." On the base 1812, and on the capital 1848 An American eagle, holding a bunch of laurels in his beak, surmounts the column.

Below the column appears, "From Virginia," and beneath this an escutcheon bearing the coat of arms of Virginia. On either side of the column are scenes in Mexico, one of which shows the artillery in action and the army marching into the City of Mexico. High peaked mountains appear in the background, while the whole is encircled by a wreath of oak and laurel leaves. The medal is in a good state of preservation.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

WASHINGTON.

The tableaux on last night were just The tableaux on last night were just simply elegant, in every way a success. We cannot give praise enough to Mrs. Salile McDonald, Mrs. Charles A. Wood and Miss Mamie Lee Wood, for their very great success. "The Reaper" was splendid. Miss Neilie Wood in "clinging to the cross" could not have been better. Also the piece she recited was done to perfection. Miss Lucy Durrett in Ieneveria was exquisite Mr. Hal Curran and Miss Mary Durrett, in; the scene making love, could not have been more lovely. The windup with it all the picture scene was exquisite Indeed.

HELENA.

J. D. Dougherty and James H. Rice visited friends at Mt. Sterling last week. H. M. Warder is on the sick list.

Hugh Warder went to Winchester Tuesday. Thomas Ball went to Covington Monday

Allie McAtee, of Brooksville, is foreman in Thomas Best's warehouse. Willie Chapell, of Maysville, visited friends at this place Sunday afternoon.

Lee Thomas and Mike McTie talk of going West.

D. B. Mitchell sold and delivered a fine horse at Lexington last week for $800. Mr. Mitchell is a money-making man. He makes quick sales and short profits. He handles nothing but good horses.

Thomas Jones, an old colored man formerly of this place but now at Kansas City, died a few days ago of heart disease. Tom was well known both by whites and blacks at this

GERMANTOWN.

Rev. E. C. Savage preached at M. E. Church, outh, Sunday night. The will of Samuel Thempson, deceased was recorded Monday.

Weather excessively dry and hot, with a bad prospect for a crop of vegetables and farm products.

Miss Lillie Pogue, who makes her home with her aunt, Mrs. Evan Loyd, has reached home after a year's study at Midway, Ky. At the county Democratic convention at Brooksville Monday Dock Hook, with Ben McAtee for Deputy, was nominated for Sheriff.

The fourth quarterly meeting for this circuit, M. E. Church, South, was he'd Saturday and Sunday at Winter's Chapel, Rev. Geo. B. Pogue officiating, in the absence of the Elder.

Miss Lizzie Patterson, Miss Daisy Pollock and Miss Fannie Wilson, three charming ladies of Mason, visited Miss Alice Bullock, of Bracken, Sunday, and no doubt had a delightful time.

Mrs. Ebe Thompson and child accompanied Mrs. Maria Dickerson on her return home in Boone County Tuesday. William H. Dickerson, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Thompson, returned with them.

A certain elder just passed and wants me to send you a criticism on that infant baptism I mentioned last week. Don't you publish it Mr. Editor, not that we have any fear of a controversy on the subject, but he is an old man and we would dislike to devour him in toto.

Our public wells are proving a great blessing, and our city fathers should go to work immediately and have one dug at the upper end of Broadway, and one far out in the Bracken end of town. If they will enforce the laws against violators of the same as they should do, there will be no lack of money.

Rold subbary close to become As Charles

Bold robbery close to home. As Charles Martin, a young man living at Bridgeville, was on his way home with some purchases he made in our town, he was held up at a point about two miles from here by two men who with a revolver compelled him to hand over his packages and a small sum of money. In company with Judge T. M. Dora and wife, your correspondent spent a d-lightful day at the residence of Rev. George B. Pogue, in Brooksville, last Thursday, His accomplished daughter, Miss Lutie, rendered herself especially entertaining by the fluency and elegance of her conversation and her easy and graceful manners. We will be tempted to go again. "Oh, would I were a boy again."
